FIRST FOOD

SHIP SINCE DECEMBER 8

Scottish Daily Express Staff Reporter THE Atlantic, in benevolent mood yesterday, raised its blockade of Glenuig, coastal Inverness-shire clachan threatened with starvation, and I got through from Lochailort with the first food-ship since December 8.

Its sole land life-line, a bridle path over nine miles of mountains, is impassable for motor-cars, too dangerous at times even for motor-cars, too dangerous at times even for a mountain pony. With a cargo of bread stowed aboard we set out from Lochalott in a 21st con-verted fishing boat powered with verted fishing boat powered with the jagged islets which make Lochallort second most dangerous sisted on the Spottish coast.
